

The girl who dreams of Hollywood

Curious looking eyes but always in a good and happy mood: Hanna Mathis, 21 from Austria, is an open-minded woman who knows about her goals in life. Her outfit is casual but also artsy in her own way of dressing which underlines her confident and out-going way of being but also indicates her creativity.

As Hanna is curious about what is going on around her in terms of political topics as well as cultural and arty themes she is really passionate to express her own creativity through writing. She says: “Life is writing the best stories”, which perfectly explains where Hanna is getting her inspiration from as she is really into travelling and meeting new people. Not only people who she meets along the way inspire her but also novels and films make her creative heart beats faster. “I am always looking for stories”, she says which truly underlines her open and authentic way of communicating with her fellow human beings.

Through journalism Hanna wants to combine her writing skills with her passion for film production. “I want to be able to meet new people through my journalistic work” she says and indicates that she is looking forward to establish a connection between her journalistic work and the film industry in Hollywood in the future.

As Hanna is more into creative journalism than news reporting the ambitious and also dreamy part of Hanna sees herself making documentaries and creative movies based on her own writings in ten years from now. But except from achieving her own aims Hanna wants to simplify topics “to help people understand difficult issues and cases” through her journalistic work.

You can clearly see Hanna is full of power and positivity to gain her goals. One reason why she went to a foreign city to gain new experiences, impressions and to get inspired by the dutch culture.